Son Armadams is surrounded by a beautiful park on a hill that leads up to the Bellver Castle, one of the oldest Castles on the Island dating back to the 19th Century. Son Armadams is a long standing mature residential area in the city that has been popular amongst the local Mallorquin people since the early 1900's. For that reason the streets are lined with mature trees and there is beautiful light and shade. The Paseo Marítimo with its wonderful promenade along the seaside and the marina as well as the popular nightlife district "Santa Catalina" with its market hall and many restaurants, clubs and coffee bars are right around the corner.
